But for those of you who were not paying attention, here's a quick refresher: In December 2017, BBC decided to shake up the longstanding tradition of a young Doctor taking over after the departure of the previous Doctor and did so by casting Whittaker in the role of the thirteenth Doctor. So many people were upset that the BBC opted to make such a drastic change and some even threatened to boycott the series if they didn't go with Peter Capaldi (whom some still regard as the best Doctor). The BBC ultimately relented and Capaldi will be returning to Doctor Who and leaving the role to Whittaker. If you don't have an HBO GO account, you can still watch Game of Thrones Season 7 Episode 6: "Beyond the Wall" and there's a part 2 coming on Monday as well.Q: No provider for NgZone, how do I fix this I am getting an error message while trying to access the browser history No provider for NgZone @ I imported all the modules that are listed here: I don't know what I am doing wrong. A: I had the same problem, it was with a component called Angular material. I tried to import Angular material module in my main module like this: import { NgModule } from '@angular/core'; import { CommonModule } from '@angular/common'; import { AngularMaterialModule } from '@angular/material'; @NgModule({ imports: [CommonModule, AngularMaterialModule], declarations: [...], exports: [...], entryComponents: [...], providers: [...], }) And I had the exception: Can't bind to 'ngZone' since it isn't a known property of 'material-icons'. The solution is to add ngZone to the declarations of the MaterialModule: import { CommonModule } from '@angular/common 82157476af
